The Great Health Company Ltd. Environmental Policy

The Great Health Company is an organization that delivers Physiotherapy, Chiroprody/Podiatry, Sports Massage, Aromatherapy & Reflexology services.

Our business is conducted from a purpose built clinic in St Paul's Rd, Islington.

Our patients are from the Greater London area.

We recognise that we have an impact on the environment.

What are the impacts? A review of our activities reveals that our main environmental impacts are:

- Use of energy to provide heating for patients.
- Waste-clinical. We have a written policy in place for disposal of our clinical waste.
- We generate office waste & have a recycling policy in place.

Commitment Statement

The Great Health Company recognises that we have a responsibility to minimise our Environmental impact and we are committed to:

- Continual improvement, compliance with legislation & prevention of pollution.
- Education, training & communication with employees/associates, patients & suppliers. Through training we raise awareness of environmental issues. We have received environmental training on a 3½ hour course run by Supply London & Pera-The Innovation Company.

The Great Health Company is an organisation that specialises & prides itself on the quality of it's service. Our employees/associates are trained in all respects to maintain the environmental policy of The Great Health Company. Induction processes include paper recycling and a switch off policy. Employees/associates are encouraged to take ownership of this environmental policy. Progress is monitored and environmental performance is reviewed on a regular basis. This policy is communicated to all staff via group meetings, & to patients & suppliers via our website.

Responsibilities

The Great Health Company is an organisation that involves employees/associates at all levels.

All staff are encouraged to play a part in the Environmental Policy.

The policy will be reviewed annually & amendments made at interim periods as appropriate.

The Managing Director is ultimately responsible for implementing the Environmental Policy but all employees/associates have a responsibility within their own area of responsibility.

Objectives & Targets

The Great Health Company has business objectives that include improvements for the environment.

We recognise that we have an impact and set ourselves targets for continuous improvement.

These objectives & targets are outlined in supporting documentation.
